

Remy, Strous Win County Races

Democrats Donald Strous and Margaret Remy gained the apparent approval of Pickaway County voters Tuesday in balloting that ended the combined 32 years' of service of the current office-holders.

In unofficial tallies, Strous unseated incumbent Wayne Hines, who was making a bid for his fifth term and 16th year as Pickaway County Commissioner.

And Mrs. Remy scored a landslide victory over Ned Dresbach for the county auditor post that had been held for four consecutive four-year terms by fellow Democrat Marvin Rhoades who did not seek re-election.

Strous recorded the narrow 656-vote margin over Hines by capturing 28 precincts in the county with 5,613 votes. Hines registered a majority in 16 precincts with 4,957 votes.

"I'm very humble and honored to be chosen a county commissioner," Strous said Wednesday morning. "and I will work to serve all the people of Pickaway County to the best of my ability."

His sister, Pat Strous, was manager of his campaign for the election.

He will join Democrat Dick Tootle and Republican L. Robert Liston Jr. on the three-member county commissioner board in January, 1975. That will give Democrats control of the board until 1977, when the four-year terms of Liston and Tootle expire.

However, Strous feels that is not an important issue, saying many Republicans and Independents worked for his election and crossed party lines to support him.

Strous advanced to Tuesday's general election as an unopposed candidate in the May primary, where he polled 2,260 of the 3,878 Democratic votes cast.

Hines was also unopposed in May. He collected 2,109 of the 3,040 Republican votes cast in the primary.

Voting for the office in the city was evenly divided as both candidates won six precincts and tied in Ward I, Precinct A voting.

There was one other tie as New Holland voters cast 96 votes for each candidate.

Hines won the battle of absentee ballots, collecting 216 votes to 109 for Strous.

Prior to the election, Strous had served 16 years as a Saltcreek Twp. trustee and 15 years on the trustee's advisory council. He was chairman of the Trustees and Clerks Association for five years.

Hines, who has served the county for 16 years as a commissioner, was first elected in 1956 when he and Clyde Michael topped Bill Good and Lyman

Penn in the general election.

Hines lost a re-election bid in 1960 to Lloyd Melvin and Michael, but returned in 1962 with a victory over Charles Morris.

That was the start of three consecutive four-year terms for Hines, who won reelection in 1966 by defeating Dick Tootle and in 1970 by beating Delbert Remy, husband of the newly-elected auditor.

Mrs. Remy polled 6,695 votes by taking 44 of the 46 county polling precincts. Her margin of victory was 2,506 votes, almost as many as she collected running unopposed in the May primary.

Dresbach captured 4,189 votes and won city ward 1, precinct D by a 158-94 margin; Ashville Village East by a 105-87 vote margin; and the absentee vote 174 to 158.

Mrs. Remy is the current deputy auditor under Mrs. Rhoades, who has served four terms as county auditor beginning in 1958.

Dresbach also has considerable experience in the auditor's office, serving as deputy auditor for 12 years and as chief deputy auditor for four years.

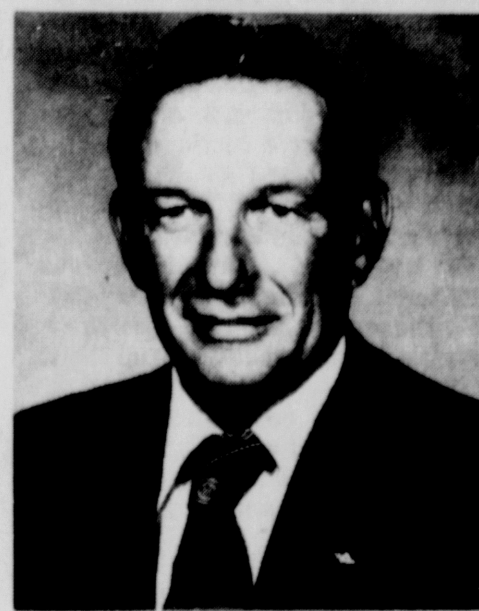

Mrs. Remy will be sworn in as county auditor March 7, 1975.

"I was surely pleased and very thankful for the help and kindness of the people of Pickaway County," she said Wednesday morning. "This is a wonderful county to work in because the people are very courteous."

She thought she was "very lucky" to win by such a wide vote count, adding that both she and Mr. Dresbach worked extremely hard during their campaigns.

Rhodes Wins Governor's Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes, despite a premature concession of defeat, regained the Statehouse post he gave up in 1970 in a hairline victory over incumbent Gov. John J. Gilligan by less than one-half of 1 per cent.

JAMES RHODES

Unofficial complete returns from the secretary of state showed Rhodes ahead by 10,178 votes. However, News Election Service, a cooperative vote gathering agency, showed Rhodes leading by 13,410 votes with near complete returns.

Gubernatorial ballots were ordered impounded early today pending the virtual certainty of a recount. It could be several weeks before final official results are known.

Rhodes declined to claim victory at a news conference today, some nine hours after he conceded defeat, but he left little doubt he thought he had won.

"This is nothing more than to keep 25 of you out of my driveway," Rhodes said.

He said the meeting would be his last news conference until an official canvass of the voters are complete. "I don't believe it is proper for me to say anything until official returns are in," he said.

Rhodes claimed he decided to concede after the news media projected Gilligan the victor.

"Everybody makes mistakes," he said. "There is no harsh feelings for anybody in the news media. If you're not prepared to lose, you never are prepared to win properly."

ROUNDTOWN

DICK Plum, after an absence of 48 years, assisted the election board in tabulating votes Tuesday evening. When he was a small boy, his father, a member of the board, put Dick in charge of the string removed from packages of paper ballots. . . . Dick was subbing for his son, Larry, who remained with his wife waiting the anticipated arrival of the stork.

GOVERNOR Gilligan tallied 126 votes in Ward 3, precinct A, the only precinct district he was able to top James Rhodes. . . .

A record 70 per cent, or 11,291, of Pickaway County's 16,153 registered voters went to the polls to cast their lot. . . .

A review shows that only 7,084 persons voted in the May primary which put Gilligan facing Rhodes in Tuesday's election. . . .

In 1970, Gilligan was defeated in Pickaway County by Roger Cloud with a vote of 3692 to 5544. . . .

Rhodes, in 1966, won all the precincts except Orient, Tarlton and City 4-D, when he was opposing Democrat Frazier Reams Jr.

THE Circleville Jaycees will be soliciting donations for the Christmas Parade and Santa House starting today through Nov. 16. . . . If not contacted, you may donate by calling Ron Eitel at 474-2995.

Republican Rhodes expected no problems working with a now Democratic-controlled General Assembly. "I don't believe there are any problems that can't be worked out between reasonable people," he said.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who ordered the impoundment, predicted, "We'll have a lawsuit on this-maybe two or three."

Meanwhile, Democrat John Glenn rolled up a near-million vote landslide as he defeated Republican Mayor Ralph J. Perk of Cleveland for a U.S. Senate seat.

Glenn's margin was the largest Senate victory in Ohio political history, and if the apparent Gilligan loss stands, Glenn would emerge as the undisputed leader of the Democratic Party in Ohio.

Glenn led in each of Ohio's 88 counties.

Unofficial tabulation gave Rhodes 1,490,138 votes to 1,476,045 for Gilligan, with three precincts left to report out more than 12,000. Brown, who also tabulates votes, reported a complete count showed Rhodes with 1,485,977 votes to 1,475,799 for Gilligan.

Independent candidate Nancy Brown Lazar of Cleveland, who had 91,832 votes, could have drained enough to defeat Gilligan and make Rhodes governor without a majority of total votes cast.

By 12:30 a.m., Gilligan was leading by about 80,000 votes. The NBC and ABC television networks projected Gilligan the winner.

Rhodes emerged from his home and made a brief statement, conceding the election to Gilligan. Rhodes, who is 65, said he would leave future cam-

Teays Valley Voters Fail Issue 7th Time

A bond issue for the voters in the Teays Valley School District failed at the polls Tuesday for the seventh time. The issue has been presented to the voters on seven occasions for the passage of a levy to build a school to house the middle grades.

The issue on Tuesday's ballot was for 5.44 mills for 20 years totaling $3,650,000 for constructing, adding to, rehabilitating, furnishing and equipping buildings and improving the sites. Construction of sewage treatment facilities at Scioto and Walnut Schools was also part of the issue.

From the 15 county precincts voting on the issue, only the Circleville Township North precinct had a majority of votes in favor of the issue. The count in that precinct was 17 for and 13 against.

Other precinct voting records on the issue are as follows: Ashville Village East, 95 against and 85 for; Ashville North, 118 against and 98 for; Ashville West, 104 against and 91 for; South Bloomfield Village, 122 against and 84 for; Harrison Township East, 101 against and 70 for; Harrison Township West, 65 against and 59 for; Madison Township, 176 against and 106 for; Commercial Point Village, 66 against and 31 for; Orient Village, 27 against and 19 for; Scioto Township, 298 against and 200 for; Walnut Township East, 167 against and 88 for; Walnut Township West, 179 against and 125 for. Amanda A precinct of Fairfield County cast 46 votes against the issue and 27 for it. Thirty-five votes were cast against the issue in Amanda B precinct and 32 in favor of it.

Absentee votes cast were almost evenly distributed on the issue with 34 votes in favor of it and 33 votes opposed to it.

A total of 2,671 votes were cast on the issue by voters in Pickaway County with 1,564 against the issue and 1,107 in favor of it. Two precincts in Fairfield County brought the total number of votes against the issue to 1645 and the total number for it to 1166.

One precinct in Franklin County also

State Issues Pass Easily Across Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans gave solid approval Tuesday to three constitutional amendments, including one that enables extending homestead tax exemptions and another to support industry and preserve jobs.

The third was a bookkeeping measure, abolishing a requirement for the governor to appoint a superintendent of public works. That position was absorbed into the Department of Administrative Services, created by the legislature last year.

With 88 per cent of the vote counted, the outcome stood:

Issue 1, homestead exemption, for 1,967,142, against 425,942.

Issue 2, superintendent, for 1,276,321, against 865,512.

Issue 3, financing, for 1,377,352, against 773,984.

The homestead tax proposal empowers the General Assembly to extend such an exemption to permanently and totally disabled homeowners. If enabling legislation is passed, it would affect an estimated 6,000 persons statewide and cost an estimated $500,000 per year.

A homestead tax exemption is already in force for all homeowners 65 years or more old. It costs an estimated $31 million annually.

Ohio counties were reimbursed for loss of revenue under the original homestead exemption by a 10 per cent property tax rollback legislated as part of a state income tax in 1972.

The revenue bond issue enlarges an existing provision that permits Ohio to issue industrial bonds and make loan guarantees for industry "to create jobs and employment opportunities."

The new amendment adds to existing language the authority to issue revenue bonds and make loan guarantees to preserve jobs. It also spells out that air, water and thermal pollution and solid waste disposal are types of facilities the state can help finance.

Weather

Mostly cloudy and cool today, high, upper 40s. Clearing tonight, low, low 30s. Mostly sunny and cool Thursday, high, low 50s. Probability of precipitation, 20 per cent today and tonight and 10 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Tuesday were: high, 54; low, 41.

Perk Loses Senate Race, Tax Vote

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland Mayor Ralph J. Perk suffered a double defeat in Tuesday's election, losing his U.S. senate race against John H. Glenn and watching the city income tax increase go to down to defeat.

With 79 per cent of the polling places reporting, Perk trailed 698,802 or 32 per cent to Glenn's 1,482,046 or 68 per cent.

The Republican mayor appeared at campaign headquarters at Polish Women's Hall shortly after 10 p.m. and conceded defeat in the Senate race. He said he had sent his Democratic opponent a telegram congratulating him on his victory.

Perk read the telegram to about 500 campaign supporters, saying that he prayed for Glenn's "success in meeting the challenges facing Ohio and the nation."

Regarding the defeat of the proposed one-half per cent increase in the city income tax, Perk told newsmen that because of his Senate campaign he wasn't able "to get the message across to the voters."

He said the defeat, which leaves the income tax at one per cent, will mean layoffs of city workers and cutbacks in city operations.

Brooks-Yates Levy Renewal Approved

A renewal of a .50 mill levy for maintenance and operation of Brooks-Yates School and related programs for the retarded was approved overwhelmingly by Pickaway County voters Tuesday.

Passing in all but two precincts, the renewal had 6,212 yes votes and 2,648 no votes. The two precincts where it failed to gain passage were New Holland where voters cast an 80-51 vote against it and in the village of Orient where the vote was 25-16 against it.

Gas Rate, Health Legislation Approved By City Council

Circleville City Council Tuesday approved an ordinance regulating the gas rate to consumers in the city of Circleville served by Columbia Gas of Ohio for the next four years.

The ordinance, hammered out in special sessions between council members and gas company officials, sets the rate effective Dec. 17 for a period of one year at 33 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,800 cubic feet and 11½ cents per hundred for all in excess. The minimum rate for the first year will be $3.30 per month.

The rate for the second year will be 36 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,800 cubic feet and 12½ cents per hundred for all in excess of that amount with the minimum rate. For the next two years the ordinance is in effect, the rate will be 38 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,800 cubic feet and 13½ cents per 100 in excess of 1,800 cubic feet. The minimum rate will remain at $3.60 per month.

The price charged by Columbia Fuel Gas Co. is subject to a fuel adjustment clause and may vary either up or down according to the average cost of gas to the company.

A resolution hailed by council members as landmark legislation authorized the city to enter into a contractual agreement with the Pickaway County Board of Health for health services. The city will make an annual payment of $30,000 for the services and will appoint a liaison person to attend county board of health meetings.

Councilman Tom Wells moved for a suspension of rules noting the city has a real need for health services and $30,000 is a "good price."

Councilman David Goldschmidt reported the city has been working toward this agreement for at least six years. "Mayor Barnhill is to be congratulated on achieving this contract," Goldschmidt stated.

The transfers of money to pay the city's share of the Public Employees Retirement System were approved. Council transferred $1,486.63 from the general fund to PERS and $1,375.83 from the water works operating fund to PERS.

An ordinance was approved authorizing the board of public utilities to advertise for bids for a ¾ ton 1975 pickup truck. Donald G. Wolf, chief of operations of Circleville sewer plant, informed council the money has been appropriated for the truck. A 1966 model truck will be used as a trade in. The new truck will be assigned to the water maintenance crew and the one presently used by water maintenance will be assigned to the sewage plant.

A resolution okaying modifications to the Rustic Ridge Planned Unit Development previously approved by council was passed last night. The modifications were approved by Circleville Planning and Zoning Board. Rustic Ridge is a project of Circle G Corporation and is located between Nicholas Drive and Pontious Lane. Richard Gerhardt is president of Circle G.

Two letters from the Planning and Zoning Commission were read, recommending the rezoning of two tracts of land within the city limits.

One tract was the Bowers-Goodchild development along the Walnut Creek Pike. A request was approved changing the zoning from R-2 to R-3 and forwarded to council. Council President Joseph Bell set a hearing date 8 p.m. Dec. 10 for the rezoning. The planning and zoning commission has already held one public hearing on the request.

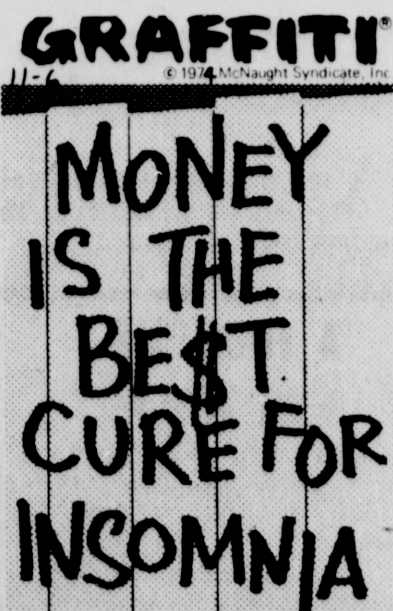

Planning and Zoning also recommended the rezoning of a tract of land in the Atwater Ave.-Morris Road area from R-3 to AR-1 so apartments may be built. At a public hearing held Sept. 25, some residents of the area objected to the rezoning. Bell set a date of 8 p.m. Dec. 11 for council's public hearing. Both hearings will be held in Council Chambers.

A letter from Columbia Gas of Ohio notified council the gas rate will be increased 8.41 cents per 1,000 cubic

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market scored another broad gain today, but profit taking blunted the advance as the session wore on.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up more than 13 points at its midmorning peak, showed an 8.37 gain at 683.12 at noon. Gainers held a 5-to-1 advantage over losers in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Some analysts said the widespread Democratic victories in Tuesday's elections had increased hopes of more expansionist government economic policies in the months ahead. But general hopes for a continued decline in interest rates and an easing of inflation were also cited as broad underlying factors in the advance.

The Big Board volume leader was Occidental Petroleum, up 1/2 at 11 1/4.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up .53 at 70.31.

The NYSE's composite common-stock index stood at 40.17, up .63.

Houston Oil & Minerals, the Amex volume leader, was up 3/4 at 31 1/2.

Collins, Harsha Apparent Winners

Totals were unavailable today in the report of the Sixth District Congressional, 17th State Senatorial and 88th District Representative Races.

William H. Harsha, incumbent congressman, 6th District, from Portsmouth, received 92,153 votes to defeat Lloyd Allen Wood, with 39,658, according to a 6:25 a.m. report from the Secretary of State's office.

Harsha took all 46 precincts in Pickaway County with a vote of 7081 to 2888 over Wood.

Oakley Collins defeated Grant McDonald by a margin of 2400 votes for the 17th Senatorial District Seat.

Collins carried Pickaway County with 4965 to McDonald's 4806. He was also able to grab Lawrence, Jackson, Galia, Meigs, Fayette, Ross, Washington and Vinton Counties.

McDonald was able to carry Athens and Hocking Counties.

The unavailability of totals from each of the county board of elections has hampered the knowledge of final unofficial totals.

Though unopposed Myrl Shoemaker was able to grab 50 per cent of the Pickaway County vote, for the State Representative seat of the 88th District, with 6749 votes.

Rhodes

Less than half an hour later, Rhodes telephoned Brown, who said the former governor told him he wished he hadn't conceded. Because by then, the Gilligan advantage was disappearing by thousands of votes at a time from the tabulations.

A few hours later, Rhodes went home and said he would have a 9 a.m. news conference if he thought he had won.

Glenn, who bucked the Democratic organization, including Gilligan, to win the Senate nomination, buried Republican Mayor Ralph Perk of Cleveland.

With 96 per cent of the vote counted, Glenn had 1,819,437 votes, or 68 per cent, while Perk had 874,533 votes, or 32 per cent.

The 944,904-vote plurality surpassed Democrat Frank J. Lausche's margin of 692,521 votes when he defeated Republican John Marshall Briley in a 1962 Senate race.

In the Ohio congressional races, Democrats failed in their efforts to whittle away at the 15-8 GOP edge. There were some shifts, but the ratio was unchanged.

Attention was focused on Cincinnati's 1st District where Willis Gradison Jr., who lost in a special election earlier this year, defeated incumbent Democrat Rep. Thomas Luken. Luken won the special election after Republican incumbent William J. Keating resigned to become president of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

In Columbus' 12th District, Rep. Samuel L. Devine, a veteran Republican, won a narrow victory over Columbus Councilwoman Fran Ryan, a Democrat.

State Sen. Ron Mottl, Democrat, won a tight, three-way race in the 23rd District seat vacated by GOP Rep. William Minshall.

Democrat Richard F. Celeste ousted incumbent Republican Lt. Gov. John W. Brown. In other statewide races, Brown, a Republican, won re-election along with the incumbent Democratic treasurer and attorney general. A Democrat was also elected state auditor.

Democrats took control of both chambers of the General Assembly for the first time in 16 years as 13 Democrats picked up 18 available Senate seats. Democrats will hold a veto-proof 21-12 edge in the 33-member upper chamber.

Almost two-thirds of the 99 seats in the House will be occupied by Democrats next year.

Celeste beat incumbent Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, a 60-year-old Republican who was first elected to the office in 1952.

Atty. Gen. William Brown of Wauson retained his post after a heated campaign with Franklin County Prosecutor George C. Smith, centering on allegations of campaign violations by the Democrats, Brown's party.

Smith, a Republican, pushed ahead with an investigation on the county level, while Brown instructed his staff to probe an allegation by the General Accounting Office of illegal fund-raising activities.

The Fergusons will continue to operate the state auditor's office after a family member defeated for the fourth time a member of the Tracy clan.

Thomas Ferguson, now deputy to his father, Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, defeated Roger Tracy Jr. In the last general election, the elder Ferguson was matched with Tracy's father and won by some 50,000 votes.

Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown had the toughest contest of his career as he defeated State Sen. Tony P. Hall, a Democratic from Dayton. Hall received generous support from the state Democratic party in Gilligan's effort for all-Democratic statewide officials.

Gertrude Donahey, the Democratic incumbent treasurer, scored an easy victory over Richard Harris, a former employee of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation from Toledo. Mrs. Donahey, with a long family heritage in state government, defeated her last opponent in 1970 by 30,000 votes.

Ohioans overwhelmingly approved three constitutional changes. One empowers the legislature to extend homestead tax exemptions, now enjoyed by the elderly, to all permanently and totally disabled persons. Another expands state revenue bond power and loan guarantees in the pursuit of jobs. The third was a book-keeping measure to abolish a requirement the governor appoint a superintendent of public works. The job was absorbed in an administrative reorganization.

Deaths

MR. JOSEPH ANDERSON

Mr. Joseph Anderson, 86, of 350 E. Union St., died 11:50 a.m. Monday at Brown Memorial Home.

Born Sept. 30, 1888 in Pickaway County, he was the son of John W. and Emma Newlon Anderson.

He was a retired farmer and member of Morris United Methodist Church.

His wife, Mrs. Minnie Roby Anderson, preceded him in death, Sept. 14, 1974.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Paul (Helen) Dawson, 798 E. Ohio St.; three sons, Carl Anderson, Route 4; John Anderson, Lancaster, N.M.; 15 grandchildren; 23 great-grandchildren; four great-great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Myrtle Southward, Lebanon.

He was preceded in death by three sons, Harold, Charles and Roy, and one daughter, Dorothy.

The funeral service will be held 2 p.m. Friday at Wellman Funeral Home with the Rev. L. S. Metzler officiating. Burial will be in Hitler-Ludwig Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Wednesday.

MR. HERMAN DUMM

Mr. Herman Dumm, 80, of 1235 S. Court St., died 2:45 a.m. Tuesday at Berger Hospital.

Born April 26, 1894 in Ross County, he was the son of Jacob A. and Mary Elizabeth Lutz Dumm.

He was a retired interior decorator, veteran of World War I and a graduate of the Academy of Fine Arts, Arts Institute of Chicago.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. O. C. (Ellen) West, 1235 W. Court St.; three nephews, Jean West, Curtis Dumm and Royce Dumm; one niece, Mrs. Thelma First.

The funeral service will be held 10:30 a.m. Friday at Wellman Funeral Home. Burial will be in Green Summit Cemetery, Adelphi.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Schools Face Closure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Voters Tuesday rejected tax levies for operating expenses in four Ohio school districts which had indicated they would close if the new money were not approved.

Prior to the election the four districts asked state audits in anticipation of setting a date when schools would close.

A fifth district which was audited, Twinsburg in Summit County, overwhelmingly passed a 5.3-mill levy for permanent improvements.

Additional tax levies were defeated in the Bellefontaine district in Logan County; Wellington Exempted Village in Lorain County; Warren in Trumbull County, and Chippewa in Wayne County.

Because of a declared policy in the office of state Auditor Joseph Ferguson, four of the districts were unable to obtain the results of their audits within a 30-day period before the election.

All of the districts said they would remain open if the tax issues passed and school officials had hoped to establish a closing date to persuade voters to approve the issues.

The Chippewa district has been given permission to close Nov. 15. The three other districts will learn the results of their audits later today and then presumably will ask state Superintendent of Schools Martin Essex to set a closing date.

The Loudonville-Perryville district in Ashland County, which had said it would take action to close if its levy failed, passed a 6.9-mill issue.

The Danbury district in Ottawa County, which withdrew an audit request, passed an eight-mill levy.

In Cincinnati, the only major Ohio city voting on an additional school tax, a 3.9-mill levy was defeated. And in suburban Mt. Healthy voters defeated the largest new tax money request in the state—12 mills.

There were 336 major school issues on the ballot, 206 of them were specifically to raise additional tax money for operation of schools.

Republicans Keep Margin In Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican Willis D. Gradison Jr. upset Rep. Thomas Luken, as the GOP in Ohio defied a national trend toward Democrats today and maintained a 15-8 margin in the state's congressional districts.

Gradison had trailed most of the night in a rematch of a special election won by Democrat Luken last March. However, this time the Republican rallied as the final Cincinnati precincts were counted and edged Luken by about 2,600 votes.

"It was done against the national tide," Gradison said. "This victory sets the 1st Ohio District apart from the rest of the United States. It indicates that while Watergate is still a problem...people were more concerned with inflation."

Luken's 4,000-vote victory in the special election had been interpreted by some analysts as a result of voter reaction against Watergate.

The Gradison victory neutralized a Democratic triumph in the vacant 23rd District in Cuyahoga County where Rep. William Minshall, a Republican, is retiring.

State Sen. Ronald Mottl narrowly won a three-way race over Republican State Rep. George Mastics and Democratic maverick Dennis Kucinich, running as an independent.

Republican State Rep. Thomas Kindness won by fewer than 5,000 votes over Democrat T. Edward Strinko in the 8th District in southwestern Ohio. Donald Gingerich, a conservative Republican on the ballot as an independent, polled 23,000 votes.

A vacancy in the district was created when Rep. Walter Powell, a Republican, announced he was stepping down.

In the 12th District in Columbus, Rep. Sam Devine, R-Ohio, withstood a stiff challenge from Democratic Columbus Councilwoman Fran Ryan, winning with just over 2,000 votes. Devine won by 22,500 votes in 1972.

Rep. Donald D. Clancy, R-Ohio, had a close call but won an eighth term in Cincinnati's 2nd District over Democrat Edward W. Wolterman, who managed to come within 10,000 votes. Clancy won by more than 44,000 votes in 1972.

Rep. John Ashbrook, who had a 30,000 vote margin two years ago, had to settle for a plurality of 6,000 votes over Democrat David D. Noble in the 17th District in east central Ohio.

There were no surprises in other Ohio districts.

Rep. Delbert Latta, a member of the House Judiciary Committee who staunchly defended former President Nixon, easily defeated Democrat Bruce Edwards, a Bowling Green State University associate professor. Latta had 61 per cent of the vote in the 5th District.

A pro-impeachment member of the House committee, Rep. John F. Seiberling, also won big, capturing 54 per cent of the vote in a contest with Republican Mark Figetakis in the 14th

Coal Strike Certainty

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a coal strike a virtual certainty, industry and union negotiators are pressing for an early settlement that would shorten the length of the predicted walkout.

Both sides scheduled another bargaining session for today after a Tuesday night counterproposal from the United Mine Workers.

UMW President Arnold Miller said the union proposed a "comprehensive contract package" which, if given quick approval, "will prevent a prolonged shutdown of the nation's mines."

Guy Farmer, chief negotiator for the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, said serious differences between the union package and what the industry offered Monday need to be resolved.

The on-again, off-again negotiations were recessed Tuesday night to give the coal operators a chance to study the 150-page union proposal. The session ended amiably in contrast to Monday night's meeting, which broke up when Miller walked out without notifying the operators. He said they had made a strike unavoidable.

District in northeastern Ohio.

Democrats piled up the expected big margins in other northeastern Ohio districts as:

Rep. Charles Vanik took 79 per cent of the vote against Republican William J. Franz; Rep. James V. Stanton had 87 per cent in his contest with Republican Robert A. Frantz; Rep. Louis Stokes won about 80 per cent over Republican Bill Mack, and Rep. Charles J. Carney powered to a 70 per cent triumph over Republican James L. Ripple.

Nine Republican incumbents won relatively easy contests; Rep. Charles Whalen in Dayton's 3rd District was the only unopposed Republican congressional candidate in the nation.

Other Republican winners were: Tennyson Guyer in the 4th District; William H. Harsha in the 6th District; Clarence J. Brown in the 7th District; Clarence E. Miller in the 10th District; J. William Stanton in the 11th District; Charles A. Mosher in the 13th District; Chalmers Wylie in the 15th District, and Ralph Regula in the 16th District.

Democratic Reps. Thomas Ashley in Toledo's 9th District and Wayne Hays, powerful House Administration Committee chairman, in the 18th District were also re-elected by wide margins.

Teays Valley

votes on the issue but according to the reports in that precinct, no votes were cast either for or against the issue.

Benis Lutz, superintendent of the Teays Valley School District, said the double sessions would continue. One of the major problems facing the district now that the issue has failed is the housing of kindergarten classes which will have to be initiated in the district next fall.

Lutz said the board would have to consider other possibilities for the kindergarten classes but as of yet nothing had been finalized. He also stated that placing the issue on the ballot again would be the decision of the board.

Teays Valley voters also failed to pass two issues on the Eastland Joint Vocational School by casting almost double the votes in each instance against the proposed issues. The first issue called for passage of 1.6 mills for 21 years totaling $7,900,000 and the second for 1.8 mills for a continuing period.

With the 1.6 mills, the issue proposed the acquisition of real estate, construction of fireproof buildings and structures, furnishing and equipping those buildings and improvement of the site.

The second issue concerning the joint vocational school was for additional current expenses.

In the precincts voting in Pickaway County on the issues, 1644 votes were cast against the first issue and 766 for it. A total count of Pickaway County votes on the second vocational school issue was 1,615 against and 805 for.

All precincts except Circleville Township North recorded a plurality of votes cast against the two issues. Even votes of nine were cast on both issues in the Circleville Township North precinct. Absentee voters also tied the current expense issue at 31 votes for and 31 against. Those same absentee voters polled 39 against the first joint vocational school issue and 23 for it.

These two issues were also presented to voters in some precincts of Franklin and Fairfield counties but failed to pass overall. An unofficial report is that Reynoldsburg was the only district that had a majority of votes in favor of the bond issue for the joint vocational school.

Paper ballots are still used in the precincts of county voting on the issue and due to a mix-up, election staffs are being called back to recount the votes cast.

Education And Jobs

If college graduates increasingly are having difficulty landing the kinds of jobs their education prepare them for, they may be creating conditions more unfavorable for high school graduates.

When the degree-holder finds it necessary to pursue another vocation than the one he planned for, in some instances he will be compelled to lower his sights to consider white collar employment which may not require college training.

He will be competing directly with high school grads, and other factors being equal probably will have the employment advantage. A realization of this employment fact of life may explain partially why so many high school graduates are electing vocational courses as part of their high school training, or immediately after graduation.

While American employment has become service-oriented (more individuals are employed in service industries than in manufacturing), some of the greatest labor shortages are in blue collar fields.

Wages, traditionally one of the stumbling blocks to blue collar recruitment, have improved sufficiently that young men today may be attracted to occupations requiring craft skills largely on the basis of the economic opportunities presented.

A Harvard economist provides proof of this theory with a study which found over the last five years the real income (after deducting the effects of inflation) of white collar workers has declined, while blue collar wages at least have stayed even with inflation. There is no doubt the ability to earn a livelihood weighs heavily on the minds of students at all levels of the education process.

Money Hand Over Fist

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The payoffs in the Muhammad Ali-George Foreman fight make Nelson Rockefeller's munificence look like peanuts. Each boxer was paid at the rate of $3,477.05 per second during the 23 minutes and 58 seconds of action. That comes out to $208,623 per minute. The $10,000,000 they split was two-thirds of what Thomas Jefferson paid Napoleon in the Louisiana Purchase.

That historic real estate deal for 828,000 square miles of land reaching from the Mississippi to the Stony Mountains (the Rockies) — at three cents an acre — doubled the size of the United States.

"You have made a noble bargain for yourselves, and I suppose you will make the most of it," Napoleon's Talleyrand remarked to Jefferson's Robert Livingston.

The "most of it" was indeed made. In time we carved it into the states of Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Oklahoma, and most of today's Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Minnesota.

Ali earned $2,500,000 while leaning on the top rope of the ring, where he relaxed for half the fight. He came out of the fight unmarked except for rope burns.

Speaking of the high price of muscle, Dahlia, the great 4-year-old thoroughbred mare, has now won $1,206,705 in purses. The $91,650 she picked up in Canada last week placed her just behind the more or less immortal Secretariat on the list of all-time money winners. If her owner, Texas oil man Nelson Bunker Hunt, lets her feel her oats for another couple of years, she'll shoot past Secretariat, for sure, and burst in there among the all-time winners: Kelso, a gelding, Round Table, Buckpasser and Nashua.

Man o' War, by the way, won $249,465 in his 21 races, of which he won 20. That was the Woodrow Wilson dollar for you!

Dahlia goes next in Saturday's running at Laurel of the Washington, D.C., International. She is the favorite in the mile and a half classic on grass. She won it last year. If she can repeat, her owner can buy her about $80,000 worth of hay.

The entrepreneur of this race, John D. Schapiro, is to my mind the gamest sportsman in thoroughbred racing. At sometimes awesome financial risk he has consolidated a prime event in the annals of U.S. racing, one with a special flavor no other American classic has.

Thanks to his diplomacy, good-nature and willingness to travel anywhere in the world of the Thoroughbred, he has been able — since 1952 — to bring to his race the best or nearly the best chargers of the U.S., France, Canada, England, and Ireland. His is the only race to which two towering figures of the British Empire ever sent horses, Queen Elizabeth II and Sir Winston Churchill. (Alas, their entries ran dead last.)

One tends to tire of reading the taunts of foreign leaders. There never has been a country in all history that distributed more of its blood, guts and goods for the welfare of mankind than the United States. But the likes of the leaders of Libya, Cuba, India, and most of the Arab states have berated us severely in recent weeks and months. Who the hell, pray tell, is Madame Indira Gandhi of India to flip off to Kashmir while Henry Kissinger was trying to talk to her in New Delhi? If her country is the most pathetic on earth, which it appears to be, Lord knows how stark its condition would be without the aid the U.S. has been pouring in there by the billions.

We must be the most patient people in history. We even put up with someone named Yasir Arafat, and that's patience above any beyond the call of diplomacy.

Far beyond anything modern medicine can do for him, the best therapy for Richard Nixon is the kind of loyalty shown to him by his family.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are not by instinct ecologists, but neither are they totally insensitive to the arguments of the environmentalists and others who claim industrial society is in deadly conflict with nature.

The distance between the two is seldom bridged, however, because neither speaks the language of the other. David Brower, president of Friends of the Earth, believes the attempt is worthwhile.

Business believes in efficiency, he observes, and so do the ecologists. Both believe in conserving, avoiding waste, recycling where possible. They have a mutual interest in long-range planning.

The radical difference seems to be in emphasis. The industrialist measures efficiency and productivity in terms of the greatest return for the least investment. The ecologist measures efficiency in terms of obtaining the greatest use from the environment with the least amount of damage.

To an ecologist, Brower comments, "inflation is running out of something."

Brower fears the current rate of population growth leads to disaster if unchecked. His fear is great enough, he states, for him to willingly forego the pleasures of being a grandfather, although not without anguish.

Brower believes also, as almost everyone believes today, that energy must be saved, but he isn't convinced the world understands what it means.

The sun, he says, "puts into the earth in a few days as much energy as is contained in our fossil fuels." Nevertheless, architects continue to fight the sun and the wind. "We must learn to live and work with them," he states.

When Brower tells business it must practice staunch conservatism, he seems to reflect the credo of business itself. Efficiency must be paramount, he states. "If you have to waste to stay in business, get out of the business."

He believes the world's economies must learn to develop mass transit because it is energy-efficient. Yes, it would cut auto production and jobs, he agrees, but he foresees a vastly greater number of workers in maintenance.

This would be so, he continues, because we must eliminate planned obsolescence. Cars must be made to last longer. Indeed, all products must be produced with longevity in mind, and then kept in repair — for efficiency's sake.

Transportation isn't the only offender, Brower says. "Slow down the building of housing that becomes quickly obsolescent. Learn from other nations and build houses to last — houses that need little paint or air conditioning."

Brower isn't impressed by the enormous productivity of American farms, arguing they are inefficient in terms of energy usage. He claims we use five times more energy in wet rice agriculture than we get out of it.

Moreover, he observes that intense use of soil eventually depletes it, polluting the water in the process and leading to deserts. Inevitably, he claims, it leads to higher food prices.

The food situation would appear to baffle the ecologists as much as it does the technologists who advocate intensive agriculture by means of huge applications of energy, including fossil energy to run tractors.

Brower recognizes the urgent dietary needs of the world and believes the world's people should seek protein from more grains and less meat — relying less on the waste production mechanism of animals. But massive grain production, at least as now understood, would seem to require intensive usage of energy.

Brower asks why the energy producers rely on expensive, depletable liquid propane gas and all but ignore the replenishable methanol fuel — liquid sunshine, he calls it — available from commercial forests.

Our lands must be more intelligently used, he states, explaining that we must cease paving over "class 1" soil for parking lots and building housing on the fertile, renewable flood plains — and then demanding protective dams.

Is the public listening to the ecology argument?

"The audiences are not as large as before," Brower concedes, adding his opinion that such a "frenetic pace" couldn't be maintained anyway.

"But I feel people are voting that way and will support corporate and government leadership that steers forward," he concludes. People recognize, he says, that our management, science and technology can do better.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, November 6, the 310th day of 1974. There are 55 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1860, Abraham Lincoln was elected the 16th President of the United States.

On this date —

In 1913, the British arrested Indian nationalist Mahatma Gandhi.

In 1917, New York state adopted suffrage for women.

In 1926, Benito Mussolini prohibited all opposition parties in Italy.

In 1928, Herbert Hoover defeated Alfred E. Smith in a hard-fought presidential election.

In 1942, a tidal wave killed 10,000 persons in India.

Ten years ago: Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai surprised the world by turning up for a Bolshevik anniversary celebration in Moscow.

Five years ago: Thousands of striking workers clashed with police in Milan, Italy's largest industrial city.

One year ago: President Nixon's personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods, was summoned to testify in court about missing White House tapes.

Today's birthday: Novelist James Jones is 53 years old.

Thought for today: My reading of history convinces me that most bad government results from too much government — Thomas Jefferson.

The Pickaway County Community Fund was very successful, according to Chairman Robert Burton. Total money collected was $31,970 and the goal was $30,000.

Lawson Hill of Darbyville found three puffballs belonging to the toad stool family in his backyard. One was 4½ pounds.

Annual retail sales in Circleville and Pickaway County increased $578,000 in four years from 1954, according to the U.S. Bureau of Census. The sales increased to $30,000,000.

Five pupils of Mrs. Dudley Morris, Route 3, were to appear on the Jack Sherrick TV Show, originating from Columbus.

Gurney Wants Broadcast Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward J. Gurney is trying to interest ABC-TV in hiring him as a political commentator, according to an aide to the Florida Republican.

Gurney, who withdrew his reelection bid after being indicted on federal bribery and conspiracy charges, wrote to ABC President Elton Rule about the job possibility, aide Richard McMeekin said Monday.

An ABC spokesman confirmed there had been an exchange of letters between Gurney and Rule but declined to elaborate. McMeekin said Gurney believed that "based on 12 years here in Washington and a pretty good knowledge of people both in the House and the Senate, that this might be an option he could consider."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Because I once had a stomach ulcer I was told never to take aspirin. I now have arthritis in my fingers. I wonder if the new long-acting aspirin can be taken without danger.

Mr. J.W., Calif.

Dear Mr. W.:

Aspirin taken over a long period of time may be responsible for irritation of the lining of the stomach and intestines in those people who are particularly susceptible.

A report in the Journal of the American Medical Association on slow-release, or long-acting, aspirin stated: "All forms of aspirin may cause internal bleeding, but the slow-release aspirin caused bleeding in several individuals who had experienced no previous bleeding problem from taking regular aspirin."

It is best not to embark on any sustained program of taking aspirin without the approval of a doctor. In this way, bleeding problems can be avoided.

There are now a number of other drugs that can be substituted for aspirin for the treatment of certain types of arthritis.

Public Appetites

By JIM BISHOP

The book controversy in West Virginia is one small step backward for man. The violence and bombing to eradicate a nattering edge of sex in textbooks is but one time in a sharp literary pitchfork. Let us concede that the youngsters are going to learn the facts of life in class or at the coarse dissertations heard in all locker rooms.

Man has a few items in common with all animals: survival, stomach, sex. These are primary interests. To live, to feed, to love are so important that, presented with the threat of deprivation, man becomes maniacal or melancholy.

I am convinced that parents who try to keep their young "innocent" as long as possible are secretly ashamed of their sex lives as "dirty." To enjoy and be disgusted is impossible to sustain emotionally.

At the opposite end of the spectrum, we have a general book trade which is selling more raw sex to more parents for more money than the publishers can count. The tastes of the nation can best be gauged by the fact that how-to sex books, many poorly conceived and written, outsell history and biography on the best-seller lists.

It is not the children who are spending $7.95 to $12.50 for mellifluous garbage. Adults demand them, even though the subject is exhausted. Nor is it necessary to go to so-called porno shops to buy them. The prissiest of the 5,000 American bookshops has them on display.

In other days, many publishers prided themselves on something called character. Harper & Row; Scribner; Little, Brown; Lippincott and others published novels and nonfiction which, in the judgment of the editors, were well written, well researched, and deserved to be published.

Prestige books, such as Fairfield Osborn's "Plunder of the Planet," or Lecomte de Noüy's "Human Destiny," were put in print, even though the publisher might lose money on the deal, because the first was one of the early books on ecology and the second closed the gap between cold science and a warm God.

The editors have submerged and drowned their principles. They pay good advances to semi-literate writers who expose the Mafia. Why? Because no matter what the author says, hoodlums never sue for libel. In my estimation, good writers like Norman Mailer and Gore Vidal debase their talents by writing "novelized" biographies of Marilyn Monroe and Aaron Burr.

The reader is buying an admixture of fact and fiction. Scores of motion

I have a deviation of the septum of my nose. I am 24 and I don't know whether to have the operation that was recommended. Is it worth going through?

Miss E.N.N., N.J.

Dear Miss N.:

The septum of the nose consists mostly of cartilage. The rest is a fine, thin bone. The septum divides the two compartments of the nose.

Rarely in the specialty of nose and throat does a doctor see a completely straight septum. These deviations may be caused by nasal fractures, but more usually are the result of growth during the early formative years.

A bend in the septum is not necessarily a reason to perform the so-called "submucous resection" of the nose. However, when the deviation, or the bend, interferes with nasal breathing, or when it compresses vital structures within the nose, the operation is beneficial.

The operation is not dangerous. It is usually performed under local anesthesia. When specifically indicated, the results can bring great relief to the patient.

picture and television stars capitalize on their notoriety by rapping out what they would like to regard as autobiographies. None are so blind as the ego-trippers. Blunt truth is a self-inflicted wound.

The worst of the lot are the prostitutes of the trade, the writers who accept money to write a book about an industrialist or an industry. In this group we also find that rare culture, the one who writes a "political expose" made up of old newspaper clippings and ancient innuendos about a candidate, paid for by his opponent, or his opponent's buddies.

I can think of one "dirty" book that I read and enjoyed. It is called "Lenny Bruce" and was written by Albert Goldman and Lawrence Schiller. Bruce, a drug addict, was a dirty comic in two earlier decades. The book is the best "show biz" biography I have ever read.

It details, in viable prose, the decline and fall of a brilliant Brooklyn boy. The pills, the women, the cocaine, the heroin, the hunger for fame are painted in their proper settings. At no point is the book dirty for the sheer delight of dragging sex in by the heels.

The same talent might have been applied to writing a biography of a more noted comic, Jack Benny. But I assure you that Jack Benny will not sell like Lenny Bruce. Thus we are left with the sinister notion that biographers and editors must ask themselves, "What will sell?", before spending a couple of years on a book.

If it is true that we get the kind of government we deserve, it is equally true that publishers pander to the tastes of the nation's readers. Alex Comfort wrote "The Joy of Sex" and Masters and Johnson presented their clinical findings in sexual habits.

Which would you expect outsold the other: "The Joy of Sex" with explicit drawings of men and women, or the graph charts of Masters and Johnson tracing the incidence of the so-called missionary position?

No contest. The lesson applies to the parents of West Virginia. The more sexual doors you slam, the more you encourage the young to become lock pickers. Think back to when you were 16, 17 and 18. You were scared and daring, and that's a dangerous combination...

The cargo of an ancient Phoenician merchant ship sunk some 2,500 years ago, found north of the Israeli coast city of Haifa, sheds light on the only known female deity of the Phoenician world — Tanti, the goddess of fertility.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Please Wait Until The Fish Is Dead

DEAR ABBY: I know this sounds like a silly problem, but your answer would mean so much to me.

A friend and I often fish together and we both enjoy it. That is, I do until it comes time to clean the fish. My friend then proceeds to fillet the fish while they are still alive and wiggling.

This bothers me, but my friend assures me that fish have no feelings, I think they have.

Who is right?

SORRY FOR FISH

DEAR ABBY: I checked with the Fish and Wildlife Department of the University of Minnesota, and their spokesman, Dr. Thomas Waters (so help me) said: "Since fish do have nervous systems, they also have feelings. However, it's impossible to say whether the pain a fish feels is the same kind of pain humans experience."

So tell your impatient friend that you aren't buying his fish story, hook, line, and sinker, and he should wait until the fish is dead before he fillets it.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married a year. We were very happy until last week.

It all started when she bought a pants suit for $150. (I make barely $100 a week.) I told her to take it back. We argued a while and she refused to return it. The next day I took it back.

That evening when I came home for dinner, my wife was standing in the kitchen naked, preparing supper.

I asked her why she was naked, and she said, "Because I don't have anything to wear." Then it dawned on me what she was trying to get across, but I just ignored her.

I never said another word about her being naked, which bugged her. All during the meal she would bump my arm. When she got up to get the coffee she shoved my chair. Finally she "accidentally" hit me in the head with the coffee pot. That's when I turned her over my knee and gave her a good spanking on her bare fanny. I figured if she was going to act like a child, I'd treat her like one.

She's not talking to me now. Was I wrong?

THE SPANKER

DEAR SPANKER: Yes. Fighting fire with fire won't solve anything, so knock off the spanking, and tell her to cut out the bumping and knocking. Your wife needs to learn how to live on your salary. And if it's insufficient for her extras, maybe she should get a job.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a middle-aged man who wants to marry for the first time in his life, but can't tolerate his beloved's children? She's a wonderful woman, but the thought of sharing her with those kids turns me off. Don't get me wrong, they aren't "bad" they're normal, but that's bad enough.

I've always found children difficult to be around. Hers are in their teens, and will soon be out of the house and on their own, but marriage right now would be rough for me. On the other hand, the lady is lovely and if I wait until her kids are on their own, I'm afraid I'll lose her. Any suggestions?

DEAR TORN: Much depends upon how this lovely lady feels about her children. You have no guarantee that once her kids are "out of the house" she will sever all connections with them and concentrate exclusively on you. I think you'd better try to find a woman who can devote herself exclusively to you, now and later.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Sarnoff To Wed Star Anna Moffo

NEW YORK (AP) — Metropolitan Opera star Anna Moffo and RCA Board Chairman Robert W. Sarnoff will be married here Nov. 14 in a private ceremony.

The marriage will be the second for Miss Moffo, previously married to Mario Lanfranchi of Rome, and the third for Sarnoff, who was wed to Esme O'Brien and to Felicia Warburg, now wife of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. The couple announced the wedding plans Monday.

Circleville Chapter OES Honors Past Matrons, Patrons

Past matrons and past patrons were honored at the recent meeting of Circleville Chapter 90 Order of the Eastern Star in the Masonic Temple.

Worthy matron, Thelma Noecker, presided at the business meeting at which time Pauline Cook reported on the temple board meeting, and Clarence Radcliffe gave a report of the committee appointed to secure a new labyrinth cloth.

Past matrons Mary Radcliffe, Marie Hamilton, Pauline Hundley, Garnet Reichelderfer, Beverly Currence, Margaret Shane, Erma Sharpe,

Public Library To Celebrate National Book Week

Libraries are working to change their image from rows of dark books to places of pleasant surroundings with programs and attractive books to meet the needs of the people they serve.

Pickaway County District Public Library will be celebrating National Book Week in several interesting ways.

In an effort to promote the collection of fashion magazines and books slanted toward self-improvement, now available, a free style show will be presented at the library on Nov. 12th at 1:30 p.m. This is open to everyone.

Sharff's Fashions has donated the clothes to be worn by volunteer models and Bernie Turner will be coordinator. Models include: Sandy Edgar, Wendy Lust, Mary Ann Raterman, Diane Sutton and Virginia Wood.

Diane McDaniels, children's librarian, will be visiting the local public kindergartens during the week to present stories and puppets for the children. Mrs. David Amey will be her guest during these programs.

On Nov. 19th at 1:30 p.m. in the library, an interesting program will be given on wrapping packages attractively. Mrs. Rosemary Linn of Linn's Gallery has offered her service for this program, also open to the public.

Libraries are better than ever. Celebrate Book Week with a visit to your public library.

'Holiday Decorations' Garden Club Program

"Holiday Decorations" will be the program for the 7:30 p.m. Tuesday meeting of Pickaway County Garden Club at First Presbyterian Church, 134 E. Mound St. Mrs. Robert Steele is program chairman and each member is to bring a decoration or be fined.

Mrs. George A. Morrow of Circleville, lecturer and teacher, will present the Garden Club of Ohio holiday program "Christmas At Your Fingertips" in Columbus at the Ohio Historical Center at 1:15 p.m., Nov. 8th.

Mrs. Morrow is an accomplished potter, having felt the need to design and make her own unique containers to achieve the desired effect in her artistic designs.

Good Samaritan Class Will Meet

Good Samaritan Class of Circleville Church of the Nazarene will meet 7 p.m. Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward, 420 S. Court St.

Twig 4 Will Meet

Twig 4 of Brown Memorial Home will meet at noon Monday at Steele's Restaurant.

Chestora Peters, Marie Bennett, Betty Liston, Kathryn Thomerson, Pauline Cook, Shirley Hall, Elaine Bowman, and past patrons, Carl Bennett, Harold Sharpe and Walden Reichelderfer were warmly welcomed by the worthy matron and commended for their support and devotion to the chapter. Each was presented with a small gift of appreciation from the worthy matron and worthy patron.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a 50 year membership pin in Circleville Chapter to Daisy Price. Past matron, Marie Bennett, presented the pin in behalf of the members.

Betty LeMay announced the annual candy sale was progressing very well and candy can be purchased at any time at the Sentry Hardware Co.

Associate matron, Elaine Bowman, announced installation of officers would be held at the meeting on Nov. 26th.

A fellowship hour and refreshments served by Eleanor Spicer and her committee were enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

WEEKDAY DINNER

Fish filets, potatoes, carrot broccoli, rolls, marinated peppers, cookies, beverage.

Carrot Broccoli

My sister Frances dreamed up this interesting combination.

10-ounce package frozen broccoli
1 carrot, pared and finely grated (about 3/4 cup)

1 or 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Cook the broccoli according to package directions, adding the carrot, just until tendercrisp. Drain if necessary and stir in the butter. Makes 4 servings.

Rangetop Supper

Fish fillets, potatoes, mint cucumbers, rolls, fruit salad, beverage.

Mint Cucumbers

Easy and refreshing.

2 medium cucumbers
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt

1 tablespoon minced fresh mint

Pare cucumbers; cut in half lengthwise; with a sturdy teaspoon scoop out seeds and discard. Slice cucumber thin — there should be about 3 cups. In a 10-inch skillet melt butter; add cucumbers and mix well; cover tightly and simmer, stirring a few times, until transparent — about 10 minutes. Stir in salt and mint. Makes 4 servings.

LARGE MEAT CUTS ARE ECONOMICAL

Buying large cuts of meat when they are on special is one way of saving money at the supermarket. Larger cuts may look expensive at the time of purchase but several meals can be prepared from one cut. When buying a cut of meat consider the price per serving rather than just the price per pound. Generally, the price per serving decreases as the size of the cut increases. U.S.D.A. Choice Grade Whole Beef Ribs averaging 20 pounds are a special this week. The whole rib will be cut at no extra charge to individual customer's specifications. The smaller cuts can then be easily stored in a home freezer for a variety of future meals. Cuts from the rib are considered some of the most tender beef cuts. The choicest roasts come from the rib. Rib cuts include standing rib roast, rib eye roast, rib eye steak, boneless rib steak and rib steak. The rib eye is a tender muscle (longissimus dorsi) that is found along the backbone of the steer. Rib cuts are excellent for roasting, broiling, pan broiling and pan frying. Boneless cuts will yield three to four servings per pound. Bone-in-meats will give two to three servings per pound.

Gas Rate

feet effective Dec. 1 pursuant to the fuel cost adjustment clause.

A letter from Dudley G. Morris, Route 5, informed council of the reasons his mother, Mrs. Jeannette Morris, 907 S. Washington St., placed a new mobile home on her lot, in apparent violation of the city code.

Morris stated a house trailer was on the lot at the time the planning and zoning ordinance was passed by council and he had been told by his attorney Roy Huffer that he could replace the mobile home with a new one. Morris stated his mother received a small pension from the veterans administration and rental of the mobile home allowed her to supplement her meager income.

The city has filed an injunction seeking the removal of the mobile home. Morris pointed out a number of other mobile homes had been placed on lots in the city since the ordinance was approved but no action taken against these property owners. The letter was referred to William Stevenson, the city's legal advisor.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Mayor Frank Barnhill reported on the progress of construction at Berger Hospital, the leaf pickup schedule and replacement of parking meters in the downtown area.

Service Director Atwood Jones noted his crews will be in the northend of the city this week and should be back on schedule Tuesday of next week following the Veterans Day holiday on Monday. He also reported the speed limit on Walnut Creek Pike within the city limits has been reduced to 35 miles per hour. In answer to a query from Councilman David Crawford, he said he would contact the state highway department to see if the speed limit on Northridge Road could be reduced on 35 miles per hour.

Councilman John Jenkins asked why council had not been better informed about the street resurfacing program this year. Jones answered by reporting no resurfacing projects were done. Councilman Crawford informed Jenkins that all council members are to submit a list of streets at the first of the year and a priority program will be established for resurfacing. Jenkins also asked why a blacktop gutter was installed for residents along S. Pickaway St. at the Franklin St. intersection. Jones stated a gutter was not installed but rather the edge of the pavement was repaired.

Visitors at last night's council meeting included Ted DeFrank, a Life Scout working on a communications merit badge, and Bob Wells, son of councilman Tom Wells.

Councilman Dixie Watters suggested that a committee be appointed to study the safety aspects of Pumpkin Show. "We have been lucky we have had no major disasters during Pumpkin Show, but if one ever occurred at that time, it would make the Xenia disaster appear like another in comparison," Watters stated.

He was told that Pumpkin Show committee constantly welcomes and studies suggestions to increase the safety of the annual festival but his suggestion was welcomed.

Fire chief Bernard Wolfe agreed with Watters about the danger potential inherent in Pumpkin Show and suggested the festival be "moved to Yellowbud."

Calvin Danford, manager of the Circleville office of Columbia Gas, reported the average increase in gas bills in the city as a result of the new rate schedule will be $1.64 per month the first year, $1.76 per month the second year and $1.38 per month the last two years of the 4-year pact.

Set Plans For Center

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Battelle Memorial Institute officials met Tuesday to begin planning a nonprofit corporation to build a Columbus Convention Center.

The Battelle Commons Co. for Community Urban Redevelopment would receive $36.5 million from the institute to build and operate the convention center and to funnel profits from the center to charities.

Franklin County Common Pleas Court Judge William T. Gillie ruled Monday that a nonprofit corporation to build a convention center with the Battelle gift is proper under the terms of the will of Battelle's founder, Gordon Battelle.

The City of Columbus may have to spend up to $35 million for improved roads, street lights, sewers and other capital improvements in the Union Depot area to go with the proposed gift convention center, according to Columbus Service Director Richard Jackson.

Scioto Voters Deny Liquor Sales, Affirm Fire Levies

Scioto Township residents defeated three of four local option election issues concerning the sale of malt beverages, and passed two issues relating to fire protection.

A total of 130 voted for option number one providing for the sale of malt beverages, wine and mixed beverages by the package, under permits which authorize sale for off-premises consumption only in Scioto Township while 191 voted down the option.

The number two option received 172 votes for and 174 votes against the sale of malt beverages, wine and mixed beverages under permits which authorize sale for on-premises consumption only and under permits which authorize sale for both on-premise and off-premise consumption, in Scioto Township.

Option number four, which states: "shall state liquor stores for the sale of spirituous liquor by the package, for consumption off the premises where sold, be permitted in Scioto Township," was defeated 185 against to 139 for.

Miami Trace School Issues Are Defeated

Voters in the Miami Trace School District, Fayette County, which includes New Holland and part of Perry Twp. in Pickaway County, soundly defeated a bond issue and additional operating levy of three mills Tuesday.

The bond issue, in the amount of $2,150,000, was defeated 2,475-1,626. The money was to be used for construction of a junior high school, remodeling existing buildings and purchase of real estate.

A 3-mill operating levy for a continuing period of time was defeated 2,306-1,841.

A .65 levy for operation of the Fayette County Progressive School for the retarded was defeated 4,150-3,527.

In other voting in Fayette County, a Washington C. H. city income tax was defeated 3,051-680.

Incumbent commissioner Robert Mace won an unprecedented fourth term in his race against J.W. Sears with a 4,215-3,588 margin. Fayette county auditor Mary Morris and Fayette County Prosecuting attorney James Kiger were unopposed.

The township residents did affirm the passage of option number three which permits the sale of spirituous liquors by the glass. The total count was for, 187, against, 166.

A 2.5 additional tax levy for fire protection was passed by Scioto Township voters with a vote of 377 for and 250 against.

The levy is for the purpose of protection against fire and to maintain fire apparatus, appliances and building at a rate not exceeding 2.5 mills.

A renewal levy, not exceeding 1.7 mills for five years was also passed by voters with a total vote of, for, 445; against, 177.

Grange News

SALT CREEK GRANGE

The first November meeting of the Saltcreek Valley Grange was held last evening at the hall in Tarlton with Hoyt Timmons conducting the business session as assisted by the regular line of officers.

In addition to the regular reports by officers and committees, mention was made of the annual county-wide banquet for Grangers and guests on December 7 at the fairgrounds. Gladys Hedges was appointed as the member to select the table decoration from the grange body.

Lecturer Paul Dunkle made mention of the county program chairpersons meeting to be held at his home on Friday evening at which time plans for the new grange year will be formulated. This program will be under the auspices of the county deputies, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bidwell.

"America—My Country" was the theme of the program as arranged by the lecturer. The program included patriotic songs and a quiz on sayings from "Poor Richard's Almanac." A short history session on Washington D. C. was enjoyed by all. The entertainment ended with short narratives by various members.

Hosts for the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Dutcher and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dean.

The program for the November 19th meeting will be a travelogue by Loring Hill discussing a trip to Alaska. Hosts for the meeting will be Margaret Ater, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Clark and Randolph Wolfe.

Livestock Leaders Receive Award

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two widely known Ohio livestock leaders will receive the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 1974 Distinguished Service Award, Farm Bureau President Leonard Schnell announced Tuesday.

Harry Goldstein of Reynoldsburg, the deputy director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture and Wilbur Bruner of Columbus, a retired Ohio State University animal science professor, will receive awards at the Farm Bureau's annual meeting Dec. 3 at the Neil House Hotel in Columbus.

Perry Twp. Levy Renewal Passes

Perry Twp. voters approved the renewal of a 2.5 mill levy during Tuesday's election by a 107-51 count.

The levy provides funds for maintenance of roads in the township and will run for five years. It is not an additional tax.

Chester Even Gets Love Letters

BELLEVUE, Wash. (AP) — In her love letter to Chester, a young lady asked a question that's been on all our minds: "Can a 12-year-old girl and a three-year-old machine make it in today's world?"

Chester gets his share of love letters and fan letters, but so far it doesn't seem to have given him any egotistical delusions. He's still pretty much the same unassuming 6-foot-tall, 20-foot-long hunk of green metal with red and yellow glowing dials, meters and blinking lights he's always been.

And he still answers all the letters he can. Like that of the 12-year-old paramour with the burning question. She also had asked Chester what his Russian Defector Makes It To U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Simas Kudirka, who once vainly tried to defect to America from the Soviet Union, has returned as a United States citizen. He said that after he gets some rest he'd like to see an American prison and perhaps go sailing.

It was almost four years ago that Kudirka, 44, a radio operator on a Russian fishing trawler, climbed aboard a Coast Guard cutter and asked for asylum, only to be dragged back aboard the trawler by the Russians. On Tuesday he arrived in New York from Moscow with his wife, two children and mother.

A few hours later — and after getting his first trip through New York rush-hour traffic — he told The Associated Press he wants to rest and, weather permitting, to go sailing.

Asked what he would like to see in the United States, Kudirka said "prisons." He said he would like to compare life in American prisons with his experience in a Soviet prison.

At one point during his incarceration he was held incommunicado, unable to

W. Virginia Demos Win

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Tuesday was Democrat day in West Virginia and Republicans lamented that the national mood didn't give them a chance.

All four incumbent congressmen had little trouble winning re-election. Rep. Ken Hechler was unopposed in both the primary and general elections and Reps. Robert Mollohan, John Slack and Harley Staggers won by margins in the 60 per cent range.

In the West Virginia Legislature, Democrats increased their majorities in both chambers, picking up an estimated two seats in the Senate and up to 20 in the House of Delegates. Going into the election the Democrats held a 24-10 Senate margin and a 57-43 House edge.

The only statewide vote was on a Judicial Reorganization Amendment. Its easy victory means a top-to-bottom overhaul of the state's court system, replacing fee-paid justices of the peace with salaried magistrates.

State Republican chairman Thomas Potter of Charleston, who lost his seat in the House of Delegates, said GOP losses were "clearly something beyond West Virginia, just a part of the whole national trend."

hobbies are and whether he has any brothers or sisters.

Chester replied that his hobbies are old radio shows, comedy, music, lectures, and all sorts of diverse things. "I don't have any brothers or sisters," he said. "However, I have 24 tape decks and two video-tape decks."

He was just being modest. Actually, Chester has about 50 to 60 brothers and sisters around the country. They just aren't quite like him.

And he has a father: Dr. Boyd M. Bolvin, head of the Bellevue Community College Library, or the Library Media Center, as the college calls it.

Chester can do things like tell you corny jokes, scare you with old radio mysteries, teach you German, or shorthand, recite the latest speeches of local political candidates, blast you with vintage rock 'n' roll, or sing old Nixon campaign songs, complete with orchestra and chorus.

Bolvin said he became interested in lessons-by-telephone while doing graduate work at the University of Southern California. The $80,000 machine was installed at the college about five years ago, shortly after Bolvin arrived.

Chester was named after his installer, Chester Electronics of Chester, Conn. Somebody decided that Ubiquitous Dial Access Information Retrieval System didn't have the right ring to it.

Chester originally was meant for the college's students. They could simply call him by phone and pick their lesson. In the school library, the lectures are linked to small television screens where they can see what Chester is talking about. The tapes are made by teachers, or Chester's voice, Mark Balsam, 27, who is in charge of programming.

But Chester's fame spread by word of mouth and his unlisted telephone number was passed on to others outside the campus. That's fine with Bolvin. He hopes listeners will come up with more program ideas.

Chester does have one quirk. To reach him in his air conditioned vault, a caller must use a touch-tone telephone. Dial phones don't have the necessary asterisk key.

And his phone bill is outrageous: $200 a month. But what can you expect from a machine that gets 30,000 calls a month on 10 telephone lines?

Man Jailed In Murder

WANAQUE, N.J. (AP) — A young Wanaque man has been jailed on murder charges in the slaying of the judge who had ejected him from a courtroom 30 minutes before the judge was shot, authorities say.

First Asst. Passaic County Prosecutor John T. Niccolai identified the man as David Vervae, 19. Niccolai said Tuesday that Judge Joseph Crescente, 71, ejected Vervae because he was "acting up."

"He was not charged with anything, he was just there observing. He was ejected by the judge because of his conduct," Niccolai said. Vervae was held in Passaic County Jail without bail.

Two other Wanaque youths, Bobby Carrol and Mike Brady, were arrested as material witnesses, Niccolai said. They were jailed in lieu of $5,000 bail.

Crescente was shot in the back while presiding at a hearing. Police said the shot came through a window.

Ted W. Brown Sets Ohio Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Ted W. Brown taught Ohio Democrats a lesson in 1958 and reiterated it Tuesday: He is almost unsinkable.

Victory by the 68-year-old secretary of state over State Sen. Tony P. Hall, D-6 Dayton, continues a winning skein that Brown began in 1951. It assures him of serving in the same elected office longer than anyone in Ohio history.

Campus Notes

When his new term begins in January, Brown will outdistance Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson in length of service in elected state office. Ferguson, rounding out 24 years as auditor or treasurer, is retiring at the end of this year. He is 82.

Brown is almost a landmark at the state capitol. He served two terms as Clark County recorder before achieving his first statewide election in 1950.

He has been a source of continuing concern for Democrat Gov. John J. Gilligan who sees Brown as representing the old politics.

"Partisanship and cronyism," Gilligan once said of Brown and his Republican colleagues. "Service," countered Brown, "that's what it's all about."

While Gilligan and Hall tried to put the chinks in his political armour, Brown plodded on. He ignored both if he could, mentioning their names only if necessary.

"I run on my record," he said, noting his congratulations to Gilligan for getting Hall on the Democratic ticket.

"He's a good man," Brown said of Hall, "and if I lose I want it to be somebody good. This office is too important to give it to anyone."

Brown survived before.

In 1958, when Democrats were sweeping state offices, he ran up a plurality of 115,000 votes, obviously many Democratic voters among them. That year, he was the only Republican elected statewide.

"The key to this office," is service, the chief elections official said. "We give it, regardless of the political affiliation of anybody seeking it."

Brown is married, the father of three grown daughters and has 11 grandchildren. He is a past president of the National Association of Secretaries of State.

Chamber Of Commerce Directors Endorse Volunteer Program

The board of directors of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce voted to endorse the Volunteers For Youth Program. A correspondence from Tom Downing regarding the program was related to the board explaining the program and its one-to-one basis upon which the volunteers work with the juvenile probationers.

Presently, the program has been operated through private funds as it is not eligible for federal funding. The volunteers need office equipment, supplies and a telephone.

The directors also voted to handle the "Ohio Manufacturers' Directory", published by the Harris Publishing Company from Cleveland. The publishing company had offered by letter to the Chamber of Commerce a complimentary copy of the volume plus $5 for each copy sold from the local office.

Both the Ohio Chamber and the National Chamber of Commerce have endorsed the company and with the local endorsement, the directory will be available to interested industry and individuals in the Circleville area.

A correspondence was read to the board from the Columbus Chamber of Commerce and the members decided to answer it with a letter of appreciation from the local Chamber for the work done by the Columbus Chamber on the Deercreek Park project.

The Committee reports were started with a summary from Keith Thomerson on the OSHA workshops. He advised the directors that the past meeting had been well-attended and reports on eye safety and medical safety had been given. The workshops have been sponsored by the Retail Merchants and one more is scheduled.

"Merry Christmas from the Retail Merchants" ribbons will be worn by the clerks in the stores. The merchants will run their Christmas Tab next week.

Ned Harden, chairman of the City-County Planning Committee reported that a hearing will be set for the adoption of the committee's transportation study. Harden also reported on the bicentennial celebration and the Pickaway County Bicentennial Commission. A meeting of the local commission is scheduled for next Tuesday with leaders from each area and organization in the county. Harden said the commission wanted various organizations and groups to be thinking about individuals to represent them in the commission.

Industries will supply pamphlets and brochures pointing out the historical aspects of the 200th celebration. Some projects will require small funding and organizations may select a project they wish to sponsor. Local heritage will be featured in 1975 with national heritage being the theme for 1976.

After a meeting with City Schools Superintendent Fritz Jacobs, Larry

Plum, chairman of the education committee, reported to the directors that the consumer education program had been very successful. Several businesses and companies in the area have spoken to the students and the committee has decided to include food buying in the program.

Plum said he had talked with Edward Martin, county superintendent, about incorporating the program in the county schools and Martin had said he would discuss it with the three local superintendents.

The program has been carried out through the government classes at the Circleville High School in order to reach as many of the seniors as possible.

Chamber president Dan Hindy reminded all the committee chairmen to prepare annual reports including the accomplishments of their committees plus any unfinished business which will be continued in the next year.

In final action, the directors approved the purchase of plastic plaques for members with five-year date lines. A discussion was held concerning the initial cost of the purchase but it was the general feeling of the directors that it would be a savings in the long run over the cardboard plaques.

The new board members, Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad, Howard N. Stevenson Jr., Michael Harrison, Romaine (Red) Wilson and Asa Elsea, will be invited to the December meeting. At the December meeting, T. D. Van Camp, who has served this past year as vice-president, will take office as president of the board of directors.

Thomas Ferguson Makes It On Own

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For Democrat Thomas E. Ferguson, 45, the third time was a charm.

Young Tom, as he is called around the statehouse, had always lived in the shadow of his father, 82-year-old Joseph T. Ferguson, the retiring Democratic auditor he will now succeed.

While the elder Ferguson has been winning elections since the late 1930s, his son—now a deputy to his dad—hasn't fared so well.

In 1962, the younger Ferguson narrowly lost the state treasurer's race to another Republican with a political name—John D. Herbert. In 1966, another GOP landslide year, he lost for auditor to Roger Cloud, then speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Tuesday, Ferguson defeated Roger Tracy Jr., as his father had regularly defeated candidates named Tracy in the past four decades.

Born in nearby Lancaster, Ferguson graduated from Columbus Aquinas

High School and Ohio Northern University before getting a degree in business administration from Ohio State University in 1950.

A Navy officer from 1952 through 1954, Ferguson served as an assistant to his father when he was treasurer and as a tax consultant and accounting representative.

After his father left office, Ferguson became systems analyst for the Ohio Co., a stock and securities investment firm.

In 1967, he became district director of the U.S. Department of Commerce in Cincinnati. Five years later, he took on additional responsibility as regional export marketing manager.

Throughout the election, his opponent campaigned chiefly against the auditor's office as it was operated by Ferguson's father.

Ferguson said he didn't agree with his father on everything—particularly on putting relatives on the payroll and operating a flower fund. He promised to curtail both practices.

"I don't even agree with my wife all the time," Ferguson said.

Kissinger Won't Meet With Arafat

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger won't meet with Yasir Arafat today despite reports by Cairo newspapers that the Palestine guerrilla chief is in the Egyptian capital, State Department spokesman Robert Anderson says.

The Arab summit conference last week recognized Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization as the future government of the West Bank of the Jordan river, and King Hussein of Jordan said this meant the PLO and not Jordan would have to negotiate for Israel's withdrawal from the territory.

After months of militant opposition to Kissinger's mediation, Arafat was reported willing to meet with the secretary of state. But Anderson reiterated previous statements from by his chief that neither Kissinger nor his aides planned to meet with the guerrilla leader.

Kissinger arrived Tuesday night from the World Food Conference in Rome and found President Anwar Sadat in bed with the flu. They talked for an hour and a half in Sadat's bedroom, but Anderson refused to give any indication of what was said.

Kissinger and Sadat were to meet again today, and then the American was flying to Saudi Arabia and Jordan. He concludes his eighth Middle East peace mission since the October 1973 war on Thursday with visits to Syria and Israel, then goes to Turkey Friday for talks on the Cyprus dispute.

Kissinger said on his arrival in Cairo that he came to get the views of Sadat and Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy, "in the light of the Rabat summit, as to how further progress can be made toward a just and lasting peace in the Middle East."

Kissinger was reported hopeful that Sadat was still interested in negotiations for another withdrawal of Israeli troops in the Sinai desert without waiting for resumption of the Geneva peace conference.

Rail Workers Face Layoffs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Layoff notices went up throughout the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. in expectation of a coal miners' strike, the Chessie System said Tuesday.

Chessie System is the holding company for the railroads.

A Chessie spokesman said the notices were required by union contracts. The notices would be canceled immediately if there is no strike, he said.

He added he did not know how many of the company's 38,000 employees would be affected by a strike.

Among those attending were Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Shirley McPherson, Mrs. Mae Delay, Mrs. Freda McPherson, Mrs. Jeanne Spring, Mrs. Anna May Hafler, Mrs. Ruth Fields,

Gertrude Donahey Remains Treasurer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gertrude W. Donahey's re-election as treasurer Tuesday assured the continuation in statewide office of a venerable name in Democratic state politics.

Mrs. Donahey, 66, is the widow of former Lt. Gov. John W. Donahey and daughter-in-law of Vic Donahey, who served the state as governor and U.S. Senator.

Mrs. Donahey, the first woman elected to statewide executive office in Ohio, ran an active, well-financed campaign against a political unknown with little money to spend. The outcome was never really in doubt.

Richard H. Harris, her Republican opponent, made a 1,000-mile walking tour around the perimeter of the state. He was unable to find any substantial issues, and while he was walking, Mrs. Donahey was running, on her record.

As the state's banker with the responsibility for collecting and investing revenues, Mrs. Donahey earned more than $200 million for Ohio, compared to $159 million in the eight years before she took office.

She is the first to admit that the income tax, state lottery and soaring interest rates were partly responsible for the dramatic increase in the flow of dollars into her office. But she is proud of introducing new computer techniques that help get the money in the bank faster.

Mrs. Donahey worked for seven years as a staff assistant to U.S. Sen. Stephen Young before her election. She has held a dozen or so offices within the Democratic party.

A soft-spoken, attractive woman, she was born in Tuscarawas County near New Philadelphia in eastern Ohio. She attended business college and has one son and three grandchildren.

Denmark forms stepping-stones between mainland Europe and the rest of Scandinavia. When Ice Age glaciers receded, plants, animals and man hopped north along its islands, National Geographic says.

Grid Picker Sees OSU Win

NEW YORK (AP) — "We're going after the Big Ten championship."

No, the speaker wasn't Ohio State's Woody Hayes or Michigan's Bo Schembechler. That was Michigan State's Denny Stolz sounding a warning to the two Big Ten giants after his Spartans beat Wisconsin last Saturday.

TV, Logan Elm End Seasons

Teays Valley and Logan Elm will conclude their 1974 football seasons in unfamiliar ways this weekend.

Westfall finished play Friday.

The Vikings appear to be facing their easiest opponent in a rugged 10-game schedule Friday when Columbus Wehrle visits the TV field, and Logan Elm will play Lancaster Fisher Catholic in a Saturday contest.

Teays Valley finished Metro League play last week with a convincing 28-12 win over Dublin that locked the Vikes in a four-way tie for second place.

TV, Dublin, Franklin Heights, and Olentangy all completed the league with 4-3 records. Hamilton Twp. won the league crown by two full games, finishing with a 6-1 record.

TV has finished second in the league the last three years.

But the Vikings, despite impressive season statistics, have only a 5-4

Five Active WFL Teams Clinch Playoff Spots

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The World Football League, the ultimate equal opportunity employer, has gone through 18 weeks of its 20-week season already, and the only teams that have been eliminated from the playoffs are the ones who have ceased operation.

Half of the league's 10 active teams — Southern California, Memphis, Florida, Birmingham and Charlotte — have clinched playoff spots and the other five are still fighting it out for the remaining three berths. And, as luck would have it, the five have taken on the five havenots in this week's action.

Southern California visits the Hawaiians, Birmingham hosts Philadelphia and Charlotte is at Shreveport tonight while Memphis entertains Chicago and Florida hosts Portland Thursday night.

The Hawaiians, 7-11 but revived with the acquisition of quarterback Randy Johnson, can virtually clinch a playoff spot by upsetting the Southern California Sun. Johnson has been aiming most of his passes at Tim Delaney, the WFL's leading receiver.

The Sun, 13-5, has a passing game of its own with rookie Tony Adams doing most of the throwing. Adams leads the league with 254 completions in 461 attempts for 3,646 yards and 22 touchdowns.

Birmingham, 13-5, will probably start George Mira at quarterback but

Vancouver
WHA Winner
Over Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Leave it to the Irish.

The Chicago Cougars let up momentarily and a rookie from Notre Dame playing in his first World Hockey League contest slapped in the winning goal for the Vancouver Blazers.

"I guess you could say he's my pet," said Andy Bathgate, co-coach of the Blazers, of Larry Israelson. Bathgate encouraged Israelson to sign with the Blazers before the season began.

With Vancouver leading 4-3 midway through the first period, Chicago tied the score on Gary MacGregor's second goal of the night. Fourteen seconds later, the 22-year-old Israelson slapped in the winning goal.

"We have to work harder in the third period and stop letting up for just that second," said Chicago's MacGregor. "The team wants to get rid of the third period slump. It's pretty hard to lose games by one goal."

In other WHA contests Tuesday, Houston crushed San Diego 9-3, Phoenix blanked Indianapolis 3-0, Toronto defeated Michigan 5-2 and Winnipeg stopped Minnesota 6-4.

Chicago's 5-4 loss to Vancouver was the Cougars' sixth one-goal defeat in their last seven games.

Phoenix goalie Gary Kurt posted his first major league shutout, turning away 24 Indianapolis shots.

Tangerine Bowl Prospects Studied

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Miami of Ohio officials believe the University of Miami, Fla., would be a "prestigious opponent" in the Tangerine Bowl football game Dec. 21.

And a spokesman for the Mid-American Conference said the league would like a Miami vs. Miami contest "because it would get a lot of ink."

But it was all speculation since the Florida school still faces a couple of formidable opponents and the Ohio team still must win the MAC championship.

When Michigan State trimmed Northwestern 41-7, senior quarterback Charles Baggett of Fayetteville, N.C., tossed the first two touchdowns of his career.

day.

"Don't give me any of that Big Two and Little Eight business," Stolz snapped.

The Spartans are only 3-1-1 in Big Ten play to 5-0-0 for coleaders Ohio State and Michigan, but they're taking dead aim at Ohio State this weekend at overall mark.

By contrast, Wehrle finished the Central Catholic League with an 0-4 mark and are entering the game with one win in nine starts.

The only season statistics not overwhelmingly in favor of the Vikings have been the final scores.

TV has rolled for only 109 points, an average of 12 points a game. Opponents have hit for 77, nearly nine a game.

The Viking offense has rolled up 2,133 total yards, an average of 237 a game. That includes 1,236 rushing or 137 a game, and 897 passing, 100 yards a game.

The TV defense, which has been magnificent all season, has allowed only 1305 total yards, about 145 a game. That includes 838 rushing, only 93 a game, and 467 passing, less than 52 a game.

The Viking offense is paced by senior rookie Matt Reed will be available for relief. Reed came off the bench to lead the Americans past Florida last week. Al Jenkins, averaging a remarkable 21 yards a reception, provides Birmingham with a long-range threat.

Philadelphia's King Corcoran is second to Adams among WFL passers and is coming off a strong showing — 20 completions in 34 attempts against Chicago. The Bell is 8-10.

Charlotte, 10-8, has lost three of its past four games and will start rookie Gary Danielson in place of the injured Tom Sherman and the ineffective Brian Dowling at quarterback.

Veteran fullback Jim Nance is the top rusher for Shreveport, 6-11-1, with 1,073 yards. D.C. Nobles and David Mays share the quarterbacking.

Memphis, 15-3, boasts the WFL's top scorer, tight end Ed Marshall. Marshall has collected 121 points, most of them on touchdown passes from John Huarte. J.J. Jennings, who ran for 107 yards last week against the Hawaiians, leads the ground attack.

Chicago, 7-11, has lost nine straight games since losing Virgil Carter, the league's top passer, Mark Kellar, the league's top rusher, and James Scott, the league's top receiver, to injuries. Bubba Wyche will start at quarterback.

Florida, 12-6, has the league's best defense, allowing just 14 points a game, and the league's top rusher, Tommy Reamon with 1,401 yards gained.

Portland, 7-10-1, is the WFL's most improved club. The Storm had an 0-7-1 record after its first eight games but quarterback Pete Beathard and rookie speedster Rufus Ferguson have helped turned things around.

Haddix 1st Robinson Coach Pick

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians new manager Frank Robinson has named Harvey Haddix the first member of his coaching staff for the 1975 season.

Haddix, a left-hander who became famous when he lost a game after pitching 12 innings of perfect baseball, was named to the job Tuesday morning.

"I'm extremely happy that Harvey has agreed to be our pitching coach," Robinson said. "My association with him goes back to our playing days in Cincinnati, and I consider him to be one of the most knowledgeable men in the art of pitching."

Haddix, who pitched 14 years in the majors, tossed his famous game on May 26, 1959 while a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates. In the 13th inning he gave up one hit to the Milwaukee Braves and lost the game 1-0.

Haddix, 49, has been out of baseball since 1971. During his pitching career, which ended in 1965 he played with the St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds, the Pirates, the Philadelphia Phillies and the Baltimore Orioles.

He served as a pitching coach for the New York Mets in 1966 and 1967, for Cincinnati in 1969 and the Boston Red Sox in 1971.

Haddix, who resides in South Vienna, Ohio, compiled a lifetime record of 136-113, with an ERA of 3.63.

"We're gonna be ready for it," Stolz promised. "We're gonna be there. Then we'll see what our chances are."

For those who think the Spartans have two chances — slim and none — remember that Ohio State's last regular-season loss was to Michigan quarterback Chuck Glitt, who could reach the coveted 1,000 yard passing mark Friday.

Glitt has connected on 57 of 116 passes this year for a 49 percent completion average and 897 yards.

Coach Dick Kidwell said his team never played better than last week. "We totally controlled the game for the first time," he said. "And the line did a tremendous job."

Wehrle will provide the final high school football competition for 13 Viking seniors, who will be playing before a parents' night crowd Friday.

They are Bob Weber, Chuck Glitt, Steve Williams, Dan Smoot, Bill Breon, Ted Ross, Don Burgoon, Bill Hurley, Keith Pettibone, Mike Reed, Dennis Stir, Lee Stiles, and Bob Dick.

Stir, who was supposedly lost for the season, played defense for the Vikes last week.

Fisher Catholic lost a heartbreaker to Liberty Union last Friday, 3-0. The only score came late in the fourth quarter and was set up as a result of a 50-yard return of a punt. The LU Lions battle Canal Winchester for the Mid State League title tonight.

Logan Elm lost to Liberty Union by a 10-8 score. "They have a very fine football team, are exceptionally quick, and are really fantastic defending the run," according to LE coach Perry Griffiths.

They use the same defense as Logan Elm, a split-6. Offensively anything can be expected in the finale Saturday although the Irish have not been noted for a fancy look.

Logan Elm is strong and with the exception of occasional sniffles and clogged up noses is ready for the game.

Van Brocklin Kicked Out By Falcons

ATLANTA (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin, generally regarded as a technical football genius with a volatile personality, was fired as head coach and general manager of the Atlanta Falcons Tuesday.

Van Brocklin, 48, had built the expansion team into a legitimate playoff contender last year but was forced out of his job by public pressure after the Falcons staggered to a 2-6 start.

The clamor for change reached its peak Sunday when the Miami Dolphins gave Atlanta its worst defeat in 40 games, 42-7.

The announcement of the firing came in a terse statement from club owner Rankin Smith at the dinner hour Tuesday night. Smith said Marion Campbell, 45, will assume the coaching duties immediately.

Campbell had served as Van Brocklin's defensive coordinator since 1969, building a unit that was respected throughout the National Football League.

"I had no inkling of anything like this," said Campbell. "I've just been trying to get the defense going ... That's all that has concerned me."

"I appreciate Rankin's faith in me, but my heart goes out to Norm Van Brocklin. We were together for nine years. He let me coach the defense and never second-guessed me. We talked today at the stadium after the change was made," Campbell said.

Marshall Cy Young Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Marshall, the tireless relief pitcher who helped the Los Angeles Dodgers win their first pennant in eight years, was named the National League's Cy Young Award winner today.

Marshall collected 17 of 24 possible first-place votes to outscore teammate Andy Messersmith, 96 points to 66, and become the first relief pitcher in history to win the coveted prize.

The only other reliever to win a major award from the Baseball Writers Association of America was Jim Konstanty, who was the National League's Most Valuable Player during the "Whiz Kid" days of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950.

The Dodgers took three of the first four places as Atlanta's Phil Niekro finished third with 15 points and Los Angeles' Don Sutton was fourth with 12.

Messersmith, along with Niekro the only 20-game winners in the National League this year, received five first-place votes. Niekro and Sutton had one each. Pitchers from the National League champion Dodgers thus gained 23 of the 24 first-place votes.

The remainder of the field included Al Hrabosky of St. Louis with nine points; Cincinnati's Jack Billingham, eight; Cincinnati's Don Gullett, five; Clay Carroll of Cincinnati, two, and Pittsburgh's Dave Giusti, Buzz Capra of Atlanta, and Lynn McGlothen of St. Louis, all one.

Hunting, Fishing License Hikes Seen

By JIM DAUBEL
Written for Associated Press

Don't expect a heralded announcement before the November election, but count on a move to raise Ohio hunting and fishing license fees next year.

Not surprisingly, nobody in the Ohio Division of Wildlife is volunteering any inside information for the record.

Dan C. Armbruster, division chief, said his office "has no plans at the present time" to ask for license increases.

He acknowledged, however, that "sooner or later we're going to have to go in for an increase."

Other sources in the division admit, off the record, that division programs that now are severely curtailed can not go begging much longer without serious long-range consequences.

Armbruster confirmed that land acquisition by the division has come virtually to a halt.

Over the past several years only 7,000 acres of wildlife lands have been purchased, primarily at Killdeer

Plains, Mosquito Creek and in Ottawa County, he said.

That was made possible by the last fee boosts in 1967 and 1968 when licenses went from $2 to $4. Some $600,000 to $800,000 in additional revenue not earmarked for operating costs was invested in land.

But, today there is scarcely enough in the annual budget to meet operating costs, Armbruster said.

With inflation biting deeper into available money, we have "enough to meet operating costs if we cut down on fuel, mileage and other things like putting gravel on roadways and paying overtime," he said.

Ohio is in the middle range in comparison with other states' license fees, "although we are traditionally among the last to raise fees."

"A lot of people don't realize that we spend only hunting and fishing revenues," said Armbruster.

That could change. William B. Nye, natural resources director, has asked the legislature for general funds for land acquisition.

Wildlife lands are open to all Ohioans—hikers, nature lovers, bird watchers—so all should share at least in their purchase, Nye argued.

Endorsing that view, Armbruster pointed out that Michigan's fishing program, as one example, is 42 percent funded by general revenue, much of which is generated by taxes on the tourist industry that shares benefits of the program.

No final decision has been made on how much increase will be sought on both fishing and hunting licenses. One informed division official, however, conceded that a $2 boost on each is "in the range of possibility."

Brandy Mite Winner Of Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP)— Brandy Mite wiped out a late eight-length deficit to overtake Volos Fame down the stretch for a narrow victory in the featured race at Latonia Tuesday night.

The winner completed the mile in 2:04 4-5 to return $7.40, $4.80 and $4.60. Volos Fame paid $5.20 and $4.60. The show horse, a 75-1 longshot, was Foresees Dream at $35.60.

A total of 46 first-year players started for National Football League teams this season.

PFSA Holds Honor Dinner

A special dinner sponsored by the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association was held at Steele's Oct. 31 honoring sportsmen club members and their wives for their assistance in making the Pumpkin Show booths a success.

Sixty members and wives enjoyed the dinner.

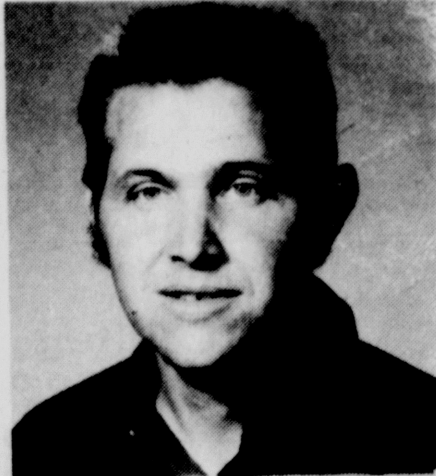

Floral table arrangements for each wife were prepared by Mrs. David Garrett and Mrs. Dick Redman. Each male member attending received either a ping-pong ball or balloon depicting the booth he worked.

Door prizes were awarded to John Moore, Hewitt Cromley, and Mrs. Dick Redman.

PUBLIC AUCTION
Of 285 Acre Pleasant Twp.,
Madison County, Farm and Farm Chattels
Friday, November 15, 1974
Beginning At 10:30 A.M.

FARM TO SELL AT 12:30 P.M.
Sale to be held on the premises located 3 miles south of Interstate 71 and 56 Interchange; 1 1/2 miles west of Mt. Sterling and State Route 56 on State Route 323.

REAL ESTATE
This outstanding Madison County 285 acre grain and livestock farm is improved with ranch style home, 9 years old with 2 bedrooms, living room, kitchen with abundant cupboard space, mud room and bath; hardwood floors with wall to wall carpet in living room and bedroom areas. Full basement with propane gas furnace. Large implement shed, hog barn, large hay barn shedded on 2 sides, small bank barn, scale shed, garage building and granary. 11,000 bu. capacity grain storage consisting of 6500 bu. bin w-Hartzell gas fired dryer, 4500 bu. bin w-Hartzell gas fired dryer. Land is in excellent state of cultivation with approximately 240 acres tillable; approximately 45 acres of pasture land with year around water supply from Sugar Run. Drainage is very good with average fencing. Farm is located in a good farming community, readily accessible to good market and conveniently located to Columbus due to its accessibility to Int. 71.
NOTE: This is an outstanding grain and livestock farm located in one of Ohio's better farming areas. Mr. Hastings has been a tenant on this farm for 29 years and upon his decision to retire from farming, Mr. Kious made the decision to sell the farm. This speaks very well of the production of this farm and the relationship between the landlord and tenant.
TERMS & CONDITIONS: $15,000.00 deposit at time of sale, balance of purchase price due upon delivery of deed on or before December 15, 1974. For further information or inspection contact auctioneer, Roger E. Wilson, Phone 614-852-1181 or 614-852-0323.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Give of your know-how and experience and express your opinions if asked but, in the doing avoid being critical or patronizing. Emphasize the positive!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may have a tendency toward lethargy, but don't yield to it. The best intentions in the world will produce nothing if not followed up by constructive effort.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You may run into some complicated situations. Analyze carefully; discriminate between fact and rumor. Don't reject a proffered idea before you have fully understood it, however.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Excessive spending could prove disastrous now. Don't speculate or indulge in extravagant whims, and watch the budget even when making minor purchases.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Teamwork will be your key to accomplishment during the next 48 hours. Even if you have to call people at a distance to help further your aims, don't hesitate.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Be cautious now—ready for an unexpected barrier, a sharp curve, one way or another. Thus you can prevent errors, keep to your path in spite of little stellar backing.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Neither expect nor demand too much and you will be surprised at your all-over returns. Avoid putting aside "musts" for nonessentials.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): The give-and-take spirit must prevail now or you will discover that you have plenty of opposition—much of it needless. Tact!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Even though some outside interests may seem more stimulating, stick to obligations, the fundamentals on which to build a better future. Be realistic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A day when a bit of chance-taking could pay off—but ONLY if you have given it considerable thought beforehand. Don't go off the deep end—blindly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Not everyone will see things as you do, but be tolerant of divergent opinions—and LISTEN to all! You COULD gain new insight into a hitherto insoluble problem.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Poise and perseverance needed. As with those born under several other Signs, you could also encounter unexpected, and unusual, situations.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly enthusiastic and outgoing individual. Withal, you are intellectually inclined, and may spend many hours in quiet study that can be highly productive, not only to yourself but to the world at large. Your true fields are scientific research and literature, where you could perform brilliantly. But many other careers are open to you. If you are attracted to law, you would probably wind up as a statesman and, as a business executive, you would have practically no competition. Acting and music are also fine outlets for your talents. Birthdate of: Marie Curie, co-discoverer of radium; Billy Graham, noted evangelist; Joan Sutherland, opera star.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — To sum it up, television's election night show seemed a prognostic banzai charge at ABC, a poll-cluttered race at NBC and an exercise in superior graphics and extreme caution at CBS.

Over-all, CBS' effort, anchored by Walter Cronkite, appeared the best, even though it seemed to run on the slogan, "Too early to call yet."

ABC's show, coanchored by Harry Reasoner and Howard K. Smith, was the simplest and most direct in format. They carried most of the show without the region-watchers and trend-watchers CBS featured or the House, Senate and gubernatorial observers displayed at NBC.

The format gave ABC a clear edge in the early hours of the night in giving the basic, unadorned "projected" word on winners and losers.

NBC gave ABC a spirited run for its money in the night's projection parade, but that effort frequently was hampered by an NBC at-the-polls poll which kept popping up with annoying frequency.

Said poll, conducted Tuesday at 400 voting spots around the nation, asked such rousing questions as: "The people running the government don't really care about what happens to me. Agree or disagree?"

The network's visual displays of candidate votes seemed too cluttered, also, and Barbara Walters and Jim Hartz of the leisurely "Today" show seemed drastically out of place in NBC's busy election night

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
